Monthly Commentary

The IZA Global Balanced Fund has outperformed both the USD and GBP benchmarks in absolute terms in September. Our balanced exposure to both pounds and US dollars acted as a significant diversifier to the portfolio returns. With the US dollar weakening amid geopolitical uncertainties and shifting monetary policies, the equal exposure to GBP and USD dampened the portfolio volatility making the portfolio more resilient to currency shocks.

The top contributors to the fund performance were mostly from the growth themes. The MSCI World Index benefited from broad gains across global equity markets, led by technology and growth sectors that continued to outperform. Growth themes such as artificial intelligence and cloud computing fueled investor enthusiasm, while resilient consumer spending and positive earnings reports provided underlying support. The current market environment favored innovation-driven growth stocks, while benefiting from a global economic backdrop of robust consumption and technological advancement.

Scottish Mortgage (SMT LN) continued to deliver strong returns due to its concentrated exposure to technology leaders and emerging growth disruptors as these themes gained traction, aligning well with positive market sentiment towards long-term transformative trends. SMT LN continues to be a significant uplift to the returns given the strong demand for high growth innovative companies.

September 2025 proved to be a standout month for SPDR Gold Shares ETF (GLD) - up about 12% in GBP, reflecting surging gold prices and robust investor demand amidst a backdrop of economic uncertainty. Gold hit multiple all-time highs during the month, fueled by concerns about inflation, geopolitical tensions, and risks surrounding the U.S. government, including a looming shutdown.

* Performance prior to 1 May 2018 is pro forma in nature and net of fees. "Back-testing" is a process of objectively simulating historical investment returns by applying a set of rules for buying and selling securities, and other assets, backward in time, testing those rules, and hypothetically investing in the securities and other assets that are chosen. Back-testing is designed to allow investors to understand and evaluate certain strategies by seeing how they would have performed hypothetically during certain time periods

While back-testing results reflect rigorous application of the investment strategy selected, back-tested results have certain limitations and should not be considered indicative of future results. The results achieved in our simulations do not guarantee future investment results.

The value of participatory interests or the investment may go down as well as up, and therefore, the CIS Manager does not make guarantees with respect to the protection of capital or returns of the investment. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. CISs are traded at ruling process and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending. The portfolio may include underlying foreign investments, and may as a result be exposed to macroeconomic, political, foreign exchange, tax, settlement, reporting or illiquidity risk factors that may be different to similar investments in South African markets. The underlying foreign investments may also be adversely affected by foreign investment policies, restrictions on repatriation of investments and other restrictions and controls that may be imposed by the relevant authorities of the relevant countries. The CIS Manager reserves the right to close the fund to new investors if it is necessary to limit further inflows for it to be managed in accordance with its mandate. Total Expense Ratio (TER) is calculated as a percentage of the average net asset value of the portfolio incurred as charges, levies and fees in the management of the portfolio. The TER charged by any underlying fund held as part of a fund's portfolio is included in the fund expenses portion of the TER, but trading and implementation costs incurred in managing the fund are included. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TER's. Transaction Costs (TC) is necessary in managing the fund and impacts the fund's return. It should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of fund, the investment decisions of the investment manager and the TER. The Total Investment Charge (TIC) is the sum of the Total Expense Ratio (TER) and Transaction Costs (TC).
